GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCES MULTICULTURAL GRANTS

Minister for Multi-cultural Affairs Michael Atkinson today announced which community groups will share more than $120,000 in the latest round of the Multicultural Grants Scheme.

Ninety-seven projects ranging from multicultural festivals and youth forums, to cultural exhibitions and websites have been funded under the bi-annual scheme.

Mr Atkinson says the Multicultural Grants Scheme, under which a total of $300,000 was available in 2006-2007, enabled a wide range of organisations to express, celebrate, promote and maintain their cultural heritage.

“Projects that raise community awareness and understanding of the State’s diversity and enhance the participation of culturally and linguistically diverse communities in South Australian life can only benefit the State as a whole,” Mr Atkinson says.

Groups and projects funded under the second round of Multicultural Grants Scheme grants for 2006-2007 include:
